

How well does each method separate recombinant forms from pure subtypes?

Truth set is the sequence naming: 20 recombinant forms vs 17 pure subtypes/outgroup. Youden's J is 0 for a method that flags everything.

